STRATEGIC APPROACH

The Big Idea

The campaign was built on a simple but powerful truth: the lip combo problem isn't just functional — it's emotional. Consumers don't just want a product that works. They want one that understands them.

"Two personalities → one product. Two shades → one perfect combo."

This became the repeatable storytelling engine of the campaign: Your Twin Flame Side — a dual identity narrative that turned a product feature into a cultural moment. The format was designed to be replicated organically, turning creator content into a participatory trend.

By anchoring the functional benefit (2-in-1 + pre-paired shades) to an emotional hook (dual personalities), we gave consumers a reason to share — not just watch.
